Illinois Vitality Archive User Acceptance Form

A brief form to test the usability of the Illinois Vitality Archive by Zachariah Brincken, Nicholas Foppe, Ian Dunn, and Marquis Pritchett.

Please provide your email below: *

brinckens@outlook.com

Reading the Glossary

This section will test the readability of IVA's glossary.

Try navigating to the website's glossary. Once you are there, take some time to read through it. *

Was the glossary easy to understand?

How could we improve the glossary in the future?

Easy to understand.

Searching for Records

This section will test the usability of our website for finding records.

Navigate to the birth record search page. Using the various options, try to find the birth record for David Robert Michael who was born in Jackson County on October 29, 1805. If you are able to find him, try to view his record details. Try to explore his family tree by viewing his related records. *

Were you able to find David's birth record?

Did you find the process easy or confusing?

Were you able to view David's record details and some of his related records?

What are some improvements we could make to our birth record search?

yes I found David's record. Process was fairly easy. Neat that you can click on relatives for their info.

Navigate to the death record search page. Using the various options, try to find the death record for David Robert Michael who died in Clinton County on December 8, 1845. *

Were able to find David's death record?

Did you find the process easy or confusing?

What are some improvements we could make to our death record search?

Easy to find the death record. I did find the record.

Navigate to the marriage record search page. Using the various options, try to find the marriage record for David Robert Michael and Melissa Laura Michael who were married in Bond County on September 22, 1822. *

Were you able to find David and Melissa's marriage record?

Did you find the process easy or confusing?

What are some improvements we could make to our marriage record search?

Very easy to use. I did find the record.

Now, you want to find a birth record, but you do not have much information about the person. You know the person's last name is Spencer and that they were born in Marshall County. You do not quite remember the person's first name, but you think it was something like Jose. Try to find this person's record. *

Were you able to find a record with this information?

If so, what is the name of the person you found (<First Middle Last>)?

What was your strategy for finding him/her?

Was this process easy or confusing?

What can we do to improve searching on limited information?

Yes, I found the record. Joshua Kevin Spencer. I put in Spencer, Jose and clicked fuzzy and then put in Marshall County.

Other Site Utility

This section will test the usability of secondary utilities on our website.

Navigate back to the birth record search page. Use the options to find any person's record. It could be a previously found record, or someone else entirely. Once you have found a record, try to leave a comment. The comment content is unimportant. *

Were you able to successfully leave a comment?

Did you find this process easy or confusing?

What can we do to improve commenting on our website?

Yes, I successfully left a comment. It was easy - not at all confusing. I like that it thanked me :)

Again find any birth record. Once you have found a record, say you want to export it for later use. There is no need to actually export the record, simply answer the following: *

Do you feel confident that you know how to export a record?

If so, where on the site would you go to do this?

What can we do to improve record exportation on our website?

Yes, I am confident that I can export a record. Click on record and then at top of box that opens with familial details click on the box that says either export to CSV or PDF.

Admin Functionality

This section tests the usability of our website's admin functionality.

Navigate to the sites admin page using the url: *

http://localhost:8000/admin/

You will be prompted to log in. Use the username admin and the password gps-shelters-flood.

Were you able to enter the admin page successfully?

Was it easy or confusing to get logged in?

I was able to get to it and it was easy to log in.

As the admin, you are the one who gets to read comments and act on them. Navigate to the comments page and see if there are any new ones. You already know what you commented, so, if you see yours, mark it as seen. *

Were you able to mark your comment as seen?

If so, describe the method you used to mark your comment as seen.

Was this task easy or confusing?

What could we do to improve this functionality?

I was able to see my comment and mark it as seen.

If you were able to navigate to the comments, you probably noticed another comment that is not yours. Try to view the details of this comment, and read what the commenter had to say. *

Were you able to view this comment's details?

If so, what does the commenter want?

Was this task easy or confusing?

Yes, I was able to see that Matt Keller wants his dad added. And it was easy.

Now that you have (or have not) read the other comment, you know that someone wants you to add Daniel Craig Keller who was born March 12, 1972 in Beardstown in Cass County to the database. You are assuming this person is trustworthy, and have decided to add the record. To do this, navigate to the People page within the admin panel and try to add this person. *

Were you able to add Daniel to the database?

Was this task easy or confusing?

What can we do to improve the admin's ability to add people?

Yes I added Daniel. It was easy.

If you were not able to add Daniel to the database, skip this question. If you were, navigate to the Births page within the admin panel and try to add a birth record for record for Daniel with the information provided in the comment. As a refresher, it was: *

Name: Daniel Craig Keller
Date of Birth: March 12, 1972
County of Birth: Cass
City of Birth: Beardstown

Were you able to add Daniel's birth record to the database?

Was this task easy or confusing?

What can we do to improve the admin's ability to add birth records?

Yes I was able to add the birth record. It was easy to add Daniel's information to the birth records.

This content is neither created nor endorsed by Google.

Google Forms